The 'U' factor fails to cheer rankings; slashes pitance

Philippine University (PUP) ranked 10th in the 2004-2005 World University Rankings, a slight improvement from its 11th place in 2003-2004. The ranking was based on the university's performance in the areas of teaching, research, and internationalization.

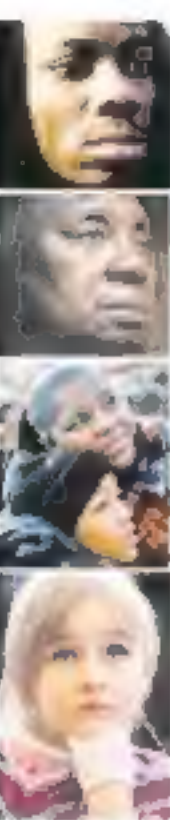

Since then, the university has continued to improve its performance in these areas.

Court resets habeas corpus hearing for 'Alabang Boys'

By Marissa Barahona and Dennis Quinsahan

THE JUDGE who sentenced two of the "Alabang Boys" to life imprisonment for the rape of a 15-year-old girl has ordered a new hearing on their habeas corpus petition.

The judge, Judge Presbitero, said that the original hearing was "deficient" and that the court must "re-examine" the evidence.

The two boys, 17 and 18 years old, were arrested in Alabang, South Manila, in 1998. They were charged with the rape of a 15-year-old girl.

The judge said that the original hearing was "deficient" and that the court must "re-examine" the evidence.

Whistle-blower told to lie low, keep quiet

Manila—A whistle-blower who exposed a major corruption scandal in the Philippine government has been ordered to lie low and keep quiet by the authorities.

The whistle-blower, who has been identified as a high-ranking official in the Department of Education, was ordered to remain in his home and not to speak to the media.

The authorities said that the whistle-blower had provided "sensitive information" that could harm the government's reputation.

The whistle-blower had accused several high-ranking officials of corruption and misuse of funds.

The authorities said that the whistle-blower had been "warned" to keep quiet, but he had refused to do so.

The whistle-blower had been working for the Department of Education for several years.

It is difficult to imagine a more effective way to increase the number of people who are able to afford to live in the city. The city's current policy of building new housing units is a good start, but it is not enough. The city needs to do more to help people who are already in the city to afford to live there. This means providing more affordable housing options, such as rent-controlled apartments and public housing. It also means providing more financial assistance to people who are struggling to pay their rent or mortgage. The city needs to take a more holistic approach to housing, one that recognizes the need for affordable housing as a basic right for all people.

1994. The importance of children in the development of a nation's future is well known. It is also well known that children are the most vulnerable group in society. The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989) is the most comprehensive international instrument on the rights of children. It sets out the rights of children in a way that is easy to understand and remember. The Convention is a guide for governments, parents, and children themselves. It is a promise that every child has the right to a better future.

It is important to understand another misconception in the AEC industry: the idea of a "one size fits all" plan. Every company is different and it is important to understand that each company will have its own needs and goals. There are no shortcuts to success in the industry. There are no shortcuts to success in the industry. There are no shortcuts to success in the industry.

The study by O'Brien et al. (1998) is an example of a study that was designed to test the effects of a specific intervention on a specific outcome. The study was a randomized controlled trial, which is the gold standard for evaluating the effectiveness of an intervention. The study was conducted in a hospital setting, and the participants were patients who had been diagnosed with a specific condition. The intervention was a specific treatment, and the outcome was a specific measure of health. The study found that the intervention had a significant effect on the outcome, and this finding was consistent across all of the groups. This study is a good example of a study that was designed to test the effects of a specific intervention on a specific outcome.

Power co-ops seek gov't subsidies

MANILA, Oct. 11 (AP) — The Philippine Electric Co-ops Association (PECA) is asking the government for subsidies to help it build a new power transmission line from Manila to Baguio. PECA says the line is needed to provide electricity to the northern region, which is currently underserved. The association says the government should provide subsidies to cover the cost of the line, which is estimated at $100 million. PECA says the line will provide electricity to about 1 million people in the northern region.

Gov't official accused of raping minor

Exec, victim's mother claim allegations part of smear campaign

By Rosemarie L. Aragon and Rhea C. Caporal

A police officer and a senior executive of a government agency were accused of raping a 15-year-old girl, according to the victim's mother. The mother claims that the allegations are part of a smear campaign against the executive.

The girl, who is now 16 years old, was allegedly raped by the police officer and the executive in a room at a government building. The mother says that she was informed of the alleged rape by the police officer and the executive's wife.

The mother claims that the police officer and the executive were involved in a relationship with the girl. She says that the girl was pregnant as a result of the alleged rape. The mother says that she was informed of the pregnancy by the girl's father.
